DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-25 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-20 of copending Application No. 10/749,867. Claim 1 of the instant application recites "A subscriber line transceiver apparatus, comprising: an integrated circuit coupling at least one of an upstream and a downstream voice path for carrying voice signals to a subscriber line, wherein the integrated circuit couples at least one of an upstream and a downstream data path for carrying data signals to the subscriber line, wherein the integrated circuit provides a common downstream path for coupling any downstream voice and adapt paths to the subscriber line, wherein the voice signals are communicated within a first frequency range, wherein the data signals are communicated within a second frequency range, wherein the first and second frequency ranges are distinct". Comparing claim 1 of the instant application with claim 1 of the co-pending application it is clear that claim 1 of the instant application is a narrow version of claim 1 of the co-pending application. Both the instant application and the co-pending application are claiming a common subject matter because the limitations : "wherein the voice signals are communicated within a first frequency range, wherein the data signals are communicated within a second frequency range, wherein the first and second frequency ranges are distinct" are inherent with claim 1 of the co-pending application.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-25 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under Double Patenting, set forth in this Office action.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed on March 19, 2007 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
